"THE VIKINGS"

Week Two

19 July 2020

STARTING TO LEARN

Our days are filled with nursing on Mom's milk, sleeping and being cleaned by Mom. Such is the life of a wee pup. Sometimes the humans come to visit us. They weigh us everyday, have some play, we always go outside for at least 20 minutes. We are starting get about in the nursery box. Bjorn has even managed to lift his head to look about (even though his eyes have yet to open). We are gaining great weight - about 2 ounces per day. This week we shall for sure come in at two pounds. We want to be big and strong so we can impress the Norse gods of our prowess. It is important for us to be worthy Vikings like our ancestors. Floki is already dreaming of making big sea going ships so we can explore beyond our lands. Ragnar has everyone doing his bidding to help with projects. Of course, Lagertha gives us inspiration. Bjorn just likes to eat. He says eating will make him a mighty Viking to be feared and respected...

Until next week we want to thank you for joining us. We are learning the Viking customs and will share our experiences with you. Until next week...
